VOLUNTEERING DAY · ETHOS 01

The Ethos team at our community centre in Bengaluru, March 2025.

Who we are

Run by volunteers, since 2019.

Proud Indian started on Republic Day 2019 with a handful of friends in Bengaluru who wanted their volunteering to add up to something. It is still run by volunteers: we call them Optimists, and they plan and run every class, drive and festival themselves.

- We go back to the same communities, so the children know us by name and we know them.
- Classes are at our community centre in Ibbaluru, near Bellandur, most weekends.
- Our accounts have been audited every year since 2019–20, and every big event gets its own financial disclosure.

Ways to partner

Four ways to help.

Most companies start with a volunteering day and come back for something bigger. Mix them as you like.

1

Volunteering days

A half or full day for your team: a session with the children, kit-building at your office, painting a classroom, or crewing one of our big days.

2

Sponsor Kalakriti

Our children's arts festival, once a year. ₹1,000 brings a child for the day; ₹50,000 sponsors one of its eight events.

3

Fund a programme

CSR funding for weekend classes, shared meals or community days, with the budget, milestones and reports agreed before we start.

4

Gift and kit drives

Your employees fund or collect school kits, ration kits or Gift a Smile wishes, and we take them to children we know by name.

Volunteering days

Bring your team.

Pick a format and we handle the rest: the place, the materials, fitting around the children's week, and an Optimist lead on the day.

1

A session with the children

Run a maths, Spoken English or art and craft session in small groups, alongside the Optimists who teach the class every week.

Team size: 8 to 15 people

How long: About 3 hours, on a Saturday or Sunday morning

Where: Our community centre in Ibbaluru, near Bellandur

We bring: The lesson plan, the materials and a briefing before you start.

2

Kit-building at your office

Assemble learning, school or hygiene kits as a team. We take them to the children and tell you where they went.

Team size: 20 to 100 people

How long: 2 to 3 hours, on a weekday

Where: Your office

We bring: Everything for the kits, and a short talk about who they're for.

3

Paint a classroom or a wall

Turn a bare wall into a mural, or a classroom into one with maps, numbers and the alphabet on its walls.

Team size: 15 to 40 people

How long: A full day

Where: A school, home or centre we work with in Bengaluru

We bring: The site, the design, paint and tools, and someone to lead the painting.

4

Crew one of our big days

Run one of Kalakriti's eight events, or help hand out the gifts children wished for at Gift a Smile.

Team size: 10 to 40 people

How long: A full day, at Kalakriti in September or Gift a Smile in December and January

Where: The festival venue, or the places we hand out gifts

We bring: A role for everyone, a briefing and lunch.

What a day costs

Materials, plus planning.

We quote each day as the materials plus a facilitation charge, which covers the planning, the Optimist lead, getting to the site and the report afterwards. For scale: the materials for Oracle's seed-pen day came to ₹6,550, and the paint for the wall Ethos painted to ₹20,271. You get the quote after our first call, before you commit.

Sponsor Kalakriti

Give children a stage.

Once a year, children from our communities get one full day of arts and culture: eight events marked by guest judges, a stage of their own and a hall cheering them on. Every child goes home with a certificate, and the ones who shine get a year of training through Kalakriti Horizon, with competitions outside to test their skills.

₹1,000

ONE CHILD

Brings one child for the day: travel, lunch, materials, a medal and a certificate.

₹50,000

ONE EVENT

Sponsors one of the eight events, from rangoli to group dance, with your name on its stage and in the festival report.

₹4,50,000

TITLE SPONSOR

Our lead sponsor, with your name on Kalakriti and on everything we put out about it.

Kalakriti 3.0 cost ₹4,44,190 for 500 children, about ₹890 a child, and Kalakriti Horizon, the year of dance, music and art training before it, another ₹2,03,373. Every rupee is in the financial disclosure. Read the disclosure. Kalakriti 3.0 was funded by Ethos (₹5,00,000) and Xencia Technologies (₹1,00,000). A separate deck covers Kalakriti 4.0 in full.

Fund a programme

Where your CSR goes.

Each programme maps to an activity in Schedule VII of the Companies Act. We agree the budget, the milestones and the reporting with you before anything starts.

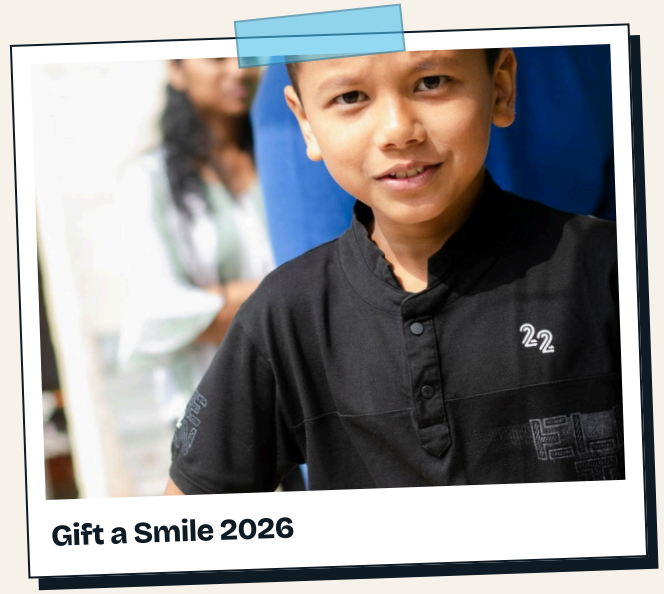

PROGRAMME	SCHEDULE VII	YOUR FUNDING PAYS FOR	WHAT IT COST IN 2025–26
Teach	(ii) Promoting education	Class materials, learning kits, the weekend classes at our community centre, and school fees for children who would otherwise drop out.	₹2,00,000 to clear four students' pending school fees, ₹14,800 on learning kits, ₹12,243 on art and craft materials and ₹20,000 towards the community centre.
Feed	(i) Eradicating hunger and malnutrition	Ration kits for families, and a proper meal whenever we bring the children together.	₹37,960 on ration kits and ₹37,735 on food distribution.
Kalakriti	(v) Promoting art and culture	The festival day, from the venue and travel to the medals, and Kalakriti Horizon, a year of training for the children who shine on the day, with outside competitions to test their skills.	₹4,27,936 for Kalakriti 2.0, with 450+ children, and ₹1,69,772 for the year of training after it.
Connect	(iii) Reducing inequalities faced by economically backward groups	Gift a Smile, outings for the children, and community days.	₹2,49,239 for Gift a Smile.

Those are whole years, from our audited accounts for 2025–26. You can fund a programme for a year, a term or a single drive: tell us what you have in mind and we'll send a plan with costs.

Gift and kit drives

A drive lets everyone in the company take part, not just the people who can come out for a day.

Gift a Smile	December and January	Children tell us what they wish for; your employees fund or buy the gifts, and we hand them over.
School kits	Before the school year	Bags, books and stationery for children starting a new year.
Ration kits	Any time	Groceries for a family's month, packed by your team or bought through us.

How it works

From first email to report.

1

Write to us

Tell us your team size, rough dates and what you have in mind. We reply within two working days.

2

Plan it together

A call to pick the format and the date, then a quote and the paperwork your CSR team needs.

3

On the day

An Optimist lead meets your team, briefs everyone and runs the day with you.

4

The report

Photos, numbers and receipts within two weeks. For CSR funding, a utilisation report as well.

What the report has

- Photos from the day, ready for your intranet and social media
- Receipts for every rupee, and an 80G receipt or invoice
- The numbers: children, volunteers, hours, kits
- For CSR funding, a utilisation report against the plan we agreed

Children first.

Everyone who spends time with our children follows the same rules, whether they come on their own or with their company.

- Volunteers are 18 or over, and every session with children starts with a short briefing.
- Nobody is ever alone with a child. An Optimist is always in the room.
- We take the photos, and share only the ones we have permission to use. Please don't photograph the children yourself.
- No personal contact with children or their families outside our sessions, including phone numbers and social media.
- Gifts and money go through us, never to one child, so every child gets the same.
- Anyone who doesn't follow the rules is asked to leave.
